TierPoint Adapt Platform

A Unified Security Platform for End-to-End Threat Management

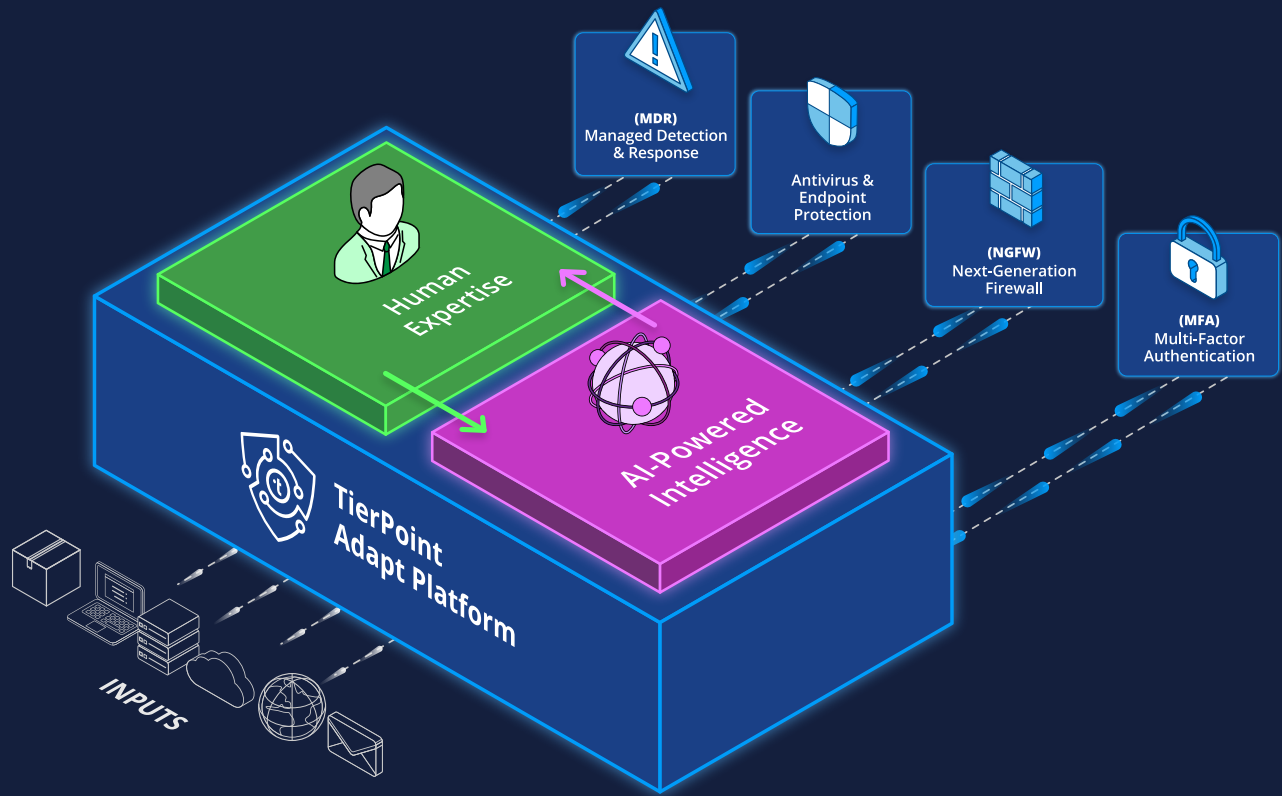

You need security that doesn't just react, it adapts. That's why we built the TierPoint Adapt Platform, a fully managed security platform that brings together the power of AI-driven analytics, real-time threat intelligence, and expert human insight to deliver protection that's always learning, always evolving.

Leveraging the Elasticsearch big data platform and built to ingest telemetry from across your entire IT ecosystem including endpoints, cloud, network, M365, and email, the Adapt Platform turns fragmented data into a unified view of your risk landscape. Every day, our certified experts use this platform to hunt threats, tune detections, and respond faster, ensuring you stay ahead of emerging risks.

As a trusted Managed Service Provider, we've used our Adapt Platform for years to secure our own infrastructure. That means you benefit from a platform shaped by real-world threat intelligence, deep infrastructure context, and the operational realities of modern IT environments.
